Course Description

ALP-054 American Language II: Reading is a course in reading for academic purposes for intermediate English language learners. It develops reading strategies, critical thinking skills and vocabulary enabling students to understand and interpret texts.

3 lec., 3 non-degree credits.
Prerequisite: ALP-044 Pre- or Co-requisite: ALP-051/052

Course Texts and/or Other Study Materials:

Real Reading 3: Lynne Bonesteel (Pearson/Longman)
ISBN: 978-0137144433

Racing in the Rain: My Life as a Dog by Garth Stein (HarperCollins)

Student Learning Outcomes:
As a result of meeting the requirements in this course, students will:

- Use reading strategies to understand texts;
- Apply critical thinking skills to interpret and evaluate information;
- Employ study skill techniques to understand and recall information;
- Determine the meaning of unfamiliar words by using context clues, a dictionary, and structural analysis (roots, prefixes, suffixes) of words;
• Demonstrate basic information literacy skills and knowledge of library services and resources.

Means of Assessment: To determine the extent to which students have achieved learning outcomes, teachers will evaluate:

- Homework assignments.
- Multiple choice, short answer quizzes and tests,
- Journal writing.
- Discussion in pairs, small groups and as a whole class.
- Research project

At the end of the course, all students take a course-wide Reading Comprehension Exit examination. Students will read a passage and answer approximately 34 multiple choice questions. Practice final exams are made available to acquaint the students with test format and content.

Course Content

This course reviews and introduces students to reading strategies, study skills and research techniques that students need at an intermediate level:

1. Previewing, skimming, scanning
2. Identifying signal words (finally, furthermore, in addition) that provide clues to organization of a text, such as time order, or compare/contrast
3. Identifying and distinguishing main idea and supporting details
4. Identifying information that is implied rather than stated
5. Drawing conclusions and make inferences based on explicit and implied information
6. Outlining
7. Using graphic organizers to take notes
8. Paraphrasing and summarizing
9. Using a dictionary to assist reading comprehension and expand reading and functional vocabulary
10. Accessing and retrieve information from a minimum of two databases
11. Using information in an ethical and legal manner

Special Features of the Course (if any) [to be designated by the instructor]
E.g. the use of learning technologies in the course (Internet, PowerPoint, Moodle, etc.)

Grading Policy (to be designated by the instructor)
A student’s final grade for the course is based primarily on his/her performance on the required work for the course (homework, reading tests, research projects, etc…), class participation, and on his/her overall mastery of the material covered in the course.

Attendance Policy: (to be designated by the instructor) Sample:

Students are expected to attend class regularly and punctually. Attendance will be taken at each class session. If students occasionally arrive late, they should enter quietly, and not disturb the class. If students miss class, they should find out what they missed. It is probably a good idea for students to exchange telephone numbers with other students as a way to find out about missed classes.

Poor attendance will affect a student’s grade. If a student’s absence exceeds one and a half times the number of weekly meetings, the student’s grade will be lowered by one full letter grade. If a student is absent excessively, the student can expect to fail the course. Lateness counts, too. Two late arrivals will equal one absence.

Statement on Accommodations for Disabilities

Bergen Community College aims to create inclusive learning environments where all students have maximum opportunities for success. Any student who feels he or she may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office of Specialized Services at 201-612-5269 or via email at ossinfo@bergen.edu for assistance.
