Course Description:

ALP-064 American Language III: Reading emphasizes reading for academic purposes and prepares advanced English language learners for reading in college-level courses enabling students to understand and evaluate academic reading materials.

3 lec., 3 non-degree credits. Prerequisite: ALP-054 Pre or Co-requisite: ALP-061/062

Course Texts and/or Other Study Materials:

Supplementary Reading:

Student Learning Outcomes:
As a result of meeting the requirements of this course, students will:

- Use reading strategies and critical thinking to understand and respond to academic texts
- Apply study skill techniques to understand and recall information from texts
- Understand and use college-level vocabulary
- Demonstrate information literacy skills and research techniques
Means of Assessment: To determine the extent to which students have achieved the learning outcomes of the course, teachers will evaluate:

- Participation in discussions in pairs, small groups and as a whole class
- Homework assignments
- Reader response journals
- Multiple choice, short answer and essay quizzes and tests
- Summaries and paraphrases of texts
- Research project

At the end of the course, all students take a course-wide Reading Comprehension Exit examination. Students will read a passage and answer approximately 34 multiple choice questions. Practice final exams are made available to acquaint the students with test format and content.

Course Content - This course reviews and introduces students to reading and research strategies that students need at an advanced level of English:

1. Identifying purpose of reading.
2. Previewing texts to gain an overview of content and organization.
3. Recognizing how new information is related to prior knowledge or experience.
4. Identifying signal words (finally, furthermore, in addition) that provide clues to organizational formats such as time order, compare/contrast.
5. Drawing conclusions and make inferences based on explicit and implied information.
6. Summarizing and paraphrasing texts
7. Determining the meaning of unfamiliar words by using context clues, a dictionary, a glossary, and structural analysis (roots, prefixes, suffixes)
8. Recognizing and understanding collocations (phrases and word groups)
9. Identifying a research topic and using appropriate search strategies to obtain information
10. Choosing appropriate sources from a variety of databases and evaluate the information in them for their relevance and appropriateness to their need.
11. Using information in an ethical and legal manner.

Special Features of the Course (if any) [to be designated by the instructor]
E.g. the use of learning technologies in the course (Internet, PowerPoint, Moodle, etc.)

Grading Policy (to be designated by the instructor)

A student’s final grade for the course is based primarily on his/her performance on the required work for the course (homework, reading tests, research projects, etc…), class participation, and on his/her overall mastery of the material covered in the course.
Sample grading policy

Class participation: 10%
Homework: 20%
Quizzes: 20%
Tests: 30%
Research project: 20%

Grade Breakdown:

A 90-100
B+ 86-89
B 80-85
C+ 76-79
C 70-75
D 65-69
F 64-below

Attendance Policy: (to be designated by the instructor) Sample:

Students are expected to attend class regularly and punctually. Attendance will be taken at each class session. If students occasionally arrive late, they should enter quietly, and not disturb the class. If students miss class, they should find out what they missed. It is probably a good idea for students to exchange telephone numbers with other students as a way to find out about missed classes.

Poor attendance will affect a student’s grade. If a student’s absence exceeds one and a half times the number of weekly meetings, the student’s grade will be lowered by one full letter grade. If a student is absent excessively, the student can expect to fail the course. Lateness counts, too. Two late arrivals will equal one absence.

Statement on Accommodations for Disabilities

Bergen Community College aims to create inclusive learning environments where all students have maximum opportunities for success. Any student who feels he or she may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact the Office of Specialized Services at 201-612-5269 or via email at ossinfo@bergen.edu for assistance.
