Credits/Hours: 3 credits / 3 hours
General Education Course: Pending
Prerequisites: None
Meeting Times: Monday, Wednesday, 3:15-4:30pm
Office Hours: Monday and Wednesday, 12-1 p.m. and Tuesday, 5-6pm in A-332

The Spanish speaking Caribbean and Central American countries have served since 1898 as a United States “backyard,” incubator of revolutionary movements, Cold War playground and more recently, a way station for drug traffickers. Many of these nations continue to struggle with the legacy of United States backed military governments and their northern neighbor’s insatiable appetite for drugs. This unique set of countries provides a lens by which to appreciate themes of local and global importance.
Learning Objectives:

1. Identify major periods and figures in the Spanish speaking Caribbean and Central America since 1898.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the narrative framework and factual basis of Caribbean and Central American history since 1898.
3. Identify and analyze the important political, economic, social, intellectual and religious forces that shaped the above period.
4. Summarize and interpret the continuity and change that occurs in the Spanish speaking Caribbean and Central America from 1898 until the present.
5. Demonstrate the ability to develop a thesis and support it with historical evidence both in writing and orally.
6. Demonstrate basic research skills by locating and using source materials.
7. Summarize, paraphrase and quote historical information in properly cited written analyses.
8. Demonstrate the ability to state and support an interpretation of historical issues concisely, coherently and logically.

Policy Statement

As a general education course, writing and critical thinking will feature prominently. Essays and/or research papers will be based on analysis of primary source materials. These may include personal accounts, official testimonies, newspaper and magazine articles or other useful documents.

Evaluation:

Grades will be based on the following rubric:

First essay: 33%
Second essay: 33%
Take home final exam: 34%

All essays will be assigned at least two weeks in advance. Late work will not be accepted for any reason nor shall extensions be granted. In addition, either of the first two essays may be rewritten for a higher grade. Last but not least, class participation is roundly encouraged. Those who participate on a regular basis and do so in constructive fashion will gain up to five points on their final mark.

Electronic Devices:

As a matter of etiquette and basic respect, cell phone use is prohibited once class begins. Under no circumstances is texting permissible and those who do so may be asked to leave.

Academic Dishonesty

In accordance with school policy, academic dishonesty of any sort shall not be tolerated. Students must submit their own work and properly credit all outside sources. Essays bearing the marks of plagiarism shall receive a grade of 0 and will greatly damage any chance for success in the class.
